Name of the blossom:

The foolish pot-maker

Sweet notes:

A classic story of “Don’t count your chickens before they hatch”.

What you can do:

The value taught is about the importance of the present - that instead of daydreaming we make things happen. You can give your child some small responsibility and see how they are focused on it.